

This is an issue of which I've know for a long time, and have written about more than once, therefore I'm quite glad to see it covered here. Footnotes and emphasis are mine. The source of this article is:

You don't own yourself — the Federal Reserve does.

For a while I have been receiving e-mails from a good friend who has asked me to investigate something weird about the Birth Certificates. He wanted me to take a look at them because they have certain numbers and other things printed on them that need an explanation.

When I looked at my own Birth Certificate, I noticed it was a copy of the original. So I went through old boxes and baby books that my Mom had saved before she died and found what I was looking for — my original Birth Certificate. It was brittle and yellowed with decades of age but — wow — it was NOT the original!

What I have learned since is kind of like discovering that you are part of the Matrix.¹ It seems none of us have our original Birth Certificates — they are all copies. And the copies have a serial number on them, issued on special Bank Bond paper and authorized by “The American Bank Note Company.” Huh?

The truth is stranger than fiction. But here it is:

It seems that back in 1913² the United States was short of cash. By the end of World War I, wartime costs had depleted the treasury and there were several really bad financial panics. The country needed to print more money than it had as equity to restore confidence in the money supply and get the economy back on its feet.

When you or I need more money, we use something as collateral and go to a bank for a loan. When a country needs more money it has to go somewhere also. But in 1913 there wasn't anywhere to go. So the U.S. created the Federal Reserve Act. This established a private central bank (The Federal Reserve Bank) that would regulate the amount of money the US government was allowed to borrow and put in circulation. It also would expect to be repaid, like any bank, with interest.

¹ For those who may not comprehend this reference, the “Matrix” is a series of three movies of which the foundational plot is that your reality is fraudulent and created for you. Through technical means of mind control, the world you find yourself living within is completely controlled and manufactured.

² In 1913, the U.S. was still on the gold standard and Federal Reserve Notes (the currency of today), did not yet exist. “Gold Standard - the system by which the value of a currency was defined in terms of gold, for which the currency could be exchanged. The gold standard was generally abandoned in the Depression of the 1930s. The best, most reliable, or most prestigious thing of its type.” – Google

After only 20 years things went from bad to worse. During Franklin D. Roosevelt's presidency, in 1933, the U.S. was unable to pay its debt. The county was bankrupt³. The private banks that made up the Federal Reserve demanded their money and Roosevelt responded. He had to use the only thing left of any value to pay the banks and continue doing business with them — the citizens of our country. Us!⁴

Exactly how all this was orchestrated is too lengthy to be addressed here, but this much can be told. The original birth or naturalization record for every U.S. Citizen is on file in the official records in Washington, D.C. (you get to keep a copy!) and the property and assets of every living U.S. Citizen is pledged as collateral for the National Debt!

Within two weeks and three days each [birth, a] Certificate of Live Birth is to be filed in Washington D.C. Evidence reveals that there is even a Federal Children Department established by the Shepherd/Townsend⁵ Act of 1922 under the Department of Commerce that appears to be involved in this process in some way. Every citizen is given a number (the red number on the Birth Certificate) and each live birth is valued at from 650,000 to 750,000 Federal Reserve dollars in collateral from the Fed.

This kind of makes you feel a little different when you look at Federal Reserve Chairman, Nancy Yellen, doesn't it?

OK. Let's take a pause to look at the Birth Certificates [below]. You will see the red numbers and you will see the fact that it is, in reality, a "Bank Note." Congratulations — you and I are commodities!⁶

Since the early 1960s, State governments have issued Birth Certificates to ³ The phrase "was bankrupt" tends to lead one to believe that this was something of the past that is no longer the case, and this is not true. The United States remains bankrupt to this day (November 27, 2016)!

⁶ commodity. 1) Something that can be bought, sold, traded, or used as collateral for a bank loan.

“persons”⁷ with legal fictional names using “ALL CAPS” names. This is not a lawful record of your physical birth, but rather the acknowledgment of the “birth” of the juristic [legal fiction], all-caps name. It may appear to be your true name, but since no proper name is ever written in all caps (either lawfully or grammatically) it does not identify who you are⁸. The Birth Certificate is the government’s self-created document of title for its new property — you and me! In a way, it makes us a kind of corporation whose company name is the same as our real name, but written in ALL CAPS. This “corporation” then generates taxes and wealth over its lifetime and in this way repays the collateral that Uncle Sam borrowed from the Federal Reserve.

⁷ In 1861, the congressional representatives that President Lincoln coerced back into session, meaning that they were not seated as a Constitutional Legislative Body, changed the definition of “person” to mean corporation. Thus, any U.S. citizen claiming to be a person, is claiming to be a legal fiction, i.e., a dead person. And a dead person has no access to constitutional protections or unalienable rights, those are for the living!

⁸ It identifies a legal fiction that Leadership created and to which they are going to hold you responsible for his conduct. YES, it’s a fraud, one that they have been running on the ignorant people of the United States for many years!

Names in "ALL CAPS" on Birth Certificates

[The red arrow is pointing to some very small print on the birth certification which I suspect is being referenced in the next comment.]

Remember that “Bond” thing printed on the bottom of the certificate? ⁹

“Bond. 1a: A usually formal written agreement by which a person undertakes to perform a certain act (as fulfill the obligations of a contract) ... with the condition that failure to perform or abstain will obligate the person ... to pay a sum of money or will result in the forfeiture of money put up by the person or surety.

1b: One who acts as a surety.

2: An interest-bearing document giving evidence of a debt issued by a government body or corporation that is sometimes secured by a lien on property and is often designed to take care of a particular financial need.”

–Merriam-Webster Dictionary of Law (1996).

Banknote. A kind of negotiable instrument, a promissory note made by a bank payable to the bearer on demand, used as money, and in many jurisdictions is legal tender. Along with coins, banknotes make up the cash or bearer forms of all modern money.

Birth certificates are a form of securities called “warehouse receipts.” The items included on a warehouse receipt, as described at Article 7, Part 2, § 7-202 of the Uniform Commercial Code, the law which governs commercial paper and transactions, which parallel a birth certificate are:

- the location of the warehouse where the goods are stored...(residence)
- the date of issue of the receipt.....(“Date issued”)
- the consecutive number of the receipt...(found on back or front of the certificate, usually in red numbers)
- a description of the goods or of the packages containing them...(name, sex, date of birth, etc.)
- the signature of the warehouseman, which may be made by his authorized agent...(municipal clerk or state registrar’s signature)

Birth certificates now appear to at least qualify as “warehouse receipts” under the Uniform Commercial Code.

⁹ The fine print, where the rubber meets the road. I don’t know if you are aware or not, most are not aware, but the signature line on your check is not a line, it’s micro-print repeating “Authorized Signature” over and over and over. Take a 30-power jeweler’s loupe and take a look. My grandson used his inexpensive microscope. You see, your checking account is not yours, it belongs to the government, thus, they have to authorize your signature on their bank account.

Black's Law Dictionary, 7th ed. defines:

Warehouse Receipt. "...A warehouse receipt, which is considered a document of title, may be a negotiable instrument and is often used for financing with inventory as security."

It is not difficult to see that a state-created Birth Certificate, with an ALL CAPS name is a document evidencing debt the moment it is issued.

Once a state has registered a birth document with the U.S. Department of Commerce, the Department notifies the Treasury Department, which takes out a loan from the Federal Reserve. The Treasury uses the loan to purchase a bond (the Fed holds a purchase money security interest in the bond) from the Department of Commerce, which invests the sale proceeds in the stock or bond market. The Treasury Department then issues Treasury securities in the form of Treasury Bonds, Notes, and Bills using the bonds as surety for the new securities.

This cycle is based on the future tax revenues of the legal person whose name appears on the Birth Certificate. This also means that the bankrupt, corporate U.S. can guarantee to the purchasers of their securities the lifetime labor and tax revenues of every citizen of the United States/American with a Birth Certificate as collateral for payment. This device is initiated simply by converting the lawful, true name of the child into a legal, juristic name of a person [a legal fiction].

Legally, you are considered to be a slave or indentured servant to the various Federal, State and local governments via your STATE-issued and STATE-created Birth Certificate in the name of your all-caps person. Birth Certificates are issued so that the issuer can claim exclusive title to the legal person created thereby.

Sleep well, fellow slaves.

The reader may benefit from reading Births.

While this is a great presentation, it may benefit from a little supporting evidence. In that vein, the following is provided:

"Under the new law the money is issued to the banks in return for Government obligations, bills of exchange, drafts, notes, trade acceptances, and banker's acceptances. The money will be worth 100 cents on the dollar, because it is backed by the credit of the Nation. It will represent a mortgage on all the homes and other property of all the people in the Nation." - Congressional record, March 9, 1933, House, Congressman Patman, 73rd Congress, Special Session, Volume 77, part 1, page 83

As you can see, everything you think you own has been mortgaged to the Banks for ink on paper (Federal Reserve Notes). And reading further we find:

"The ultimate ownership of all property is in the state, individual so called ownership is only by virtue of Government. i.e. Law, amounting to mere user. And use must be in accordance with law and subordinate to the necessities of the State." – Senate Document 43 under Contracts Payable in Gold

The only thing you might be able to claim you own is a hamburger, if you can consume it fast enough. At this juncture, the definition of “money” may be beneficial:

“money. In the usual and ordinary acceptance it means coins and paper currency used as circulating medium of exchange, and does not embrace notes, bonds, evidences of debt, or other personal or real estate.” - Blacks Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition.

Money Caveat (2008 addition)

Not surprising, things change as we begin to learn. I just picked up a 7th edition of Black's Law Dictionary, and I see that the definition of Money has changed. The fact that “money” has been redefined in this edition allows me to make a point. Let me present the definition from Black's 7th edition so that we may compare:

“money. 1. The medium of exchange authorized or adopted by a government as part of its currency <coins and currency are money>. UCC § 1-201(24). 2. Assets that can be easily converted to cash <demand deposits are money>. 3. Capital that is invested or traded as a commodity <the money market> 4. (pl.) Funds; sums of money <investment moneys>. — Also spelled (in sense 4) monies. See MEDIUM OF EXCHANGE, LEGAL TENDER.

current money. Money that circulates throughout a country; currency.

fiat money. Paper currency not backed by gold or silver. — Also termed flat money.

hard money. 1. Coined money, in contrast to paper currency. 2. Cash lawful money. Money that is legal tender for the payment of debts.

paper money. Paper documents that circulate as currency; bills drawn by a government against its own credit.

real money. 1. Money that has metallic or other intrinsic value, as distinguished from paper currency, checks, and drafts. 2. Current cash, as opposed to money on account.” - Blacks Law Dictionary, Seventh Edition

Whenever a definition for a term goes from a few words to many, or is many words out of the starting gate, it is almost a certainty that somebody is trying to trick somebody. The immediate observation is that the new definition includes Federal Reserve Notes as a form of money, whereas the definition from Black’s Sixth, excludes Federal Reserve Notes as money. There is an excellent point being made here, it is simply this. A corporation, such as the Federal Government, may make any law it wishes to make within its jurisdiction (the District of Columbia). They can change the rules to suit their desired outcome. If they so choose, they can define elephant excrement as money and it will be dutifully recorded as such in Black’s Law Dictionary. But thank you Black’s, you still have done your job if one is awake enough to see.

fiat money. Paper currency not backed by gold or silver. — Also termed flat money. - Blacks Law Dictionary (Seventh Edition)

And looking up the term fiat.

fiat. n. [Latin “let it be done”] 1. An order or decree, esp. an arbitrary one <judicial fiat>. - Black’s Law Dictionary - Seventh Edition

From this we see that fiat money is a simple arbitrary decision to call something money. Like I said, they could call elephant excrement money if they so choose... it’s an arbitrary decision.

Black’s comes through a second time... good for you Black’s.

lawful money. Money that is legal tender for the payment of debts. - Black’s Law Dictionary, Seventh Edition

The individual may not know it, but House Joint Resolution 192 (HJR192) provides that a debt CANNOT be paid with Federal Reserve Notes, it can only be DISCHARGED, and discharging a debt is not equivalent to paying a debt. Since Federal Reserve Notes is debt currency, it make perfect sense. You cannot pay a debt with a debt.

And Black’s comes through yet one more time... way to go Black’s.

real money. 1. Money that has metallic or other intrinsic value, as distinguished from paper currency, checks, and drafts. 2. Current cash, as opposed to money on account. - Blacks Law Dictionary, Seventh Edition

Federal Reserve Notes have no intrinsic value and are a paper currency, ergo, not real money.

It is important to keep in mind that (municipal) corporate governments can make and change corporate laws as they see fit to achieve their control and enslavement goals. But when congress passes laws for our representative republic known as these united States of America, those laws must pass constitutional muster. End of Money Caveat.
